

New Member Spotlight: Katherine Brooks, Hines

Meet Katherine Brooks – one of CREW's newest members. She is a native of Jacksonville, Florida, but having relocated to Atlanta at the age of four, she considers herself the next closest thing to a true Georgia native. After all, she attained her bachelor's degree in English from the University of Georgia (go Dawgs!) where she was active in her sorority, Delta Gamma. As an outdoor enthusiast, her free time is spent with her husband and two dogs fishing on the Chattahoochee, backpacking the north Georgia wilderness and cycling local trails.

Katherine is with Hines and is currently the general manager for One Overton Park in the Cumberland submarket. She joined Hines in 1998 fresh from college and started her real estate career in an administrative assistant role. Thanks to the mentoring and support of a former CREW member in her office, she quickly developed a passion for commercial real estate and began to develop the foundation for a career in real estate. A quick 10 years later, she holds the general manager position responsible for management and development of all property personnel, physical operations, fiscal activities, lease administration, construction activities, government programs and emergency procedures for her property and projects.

"I joined CREW to expand my relationships with other women of real estate in Atlanta and connect to the community." Katherine is a member of Urban Land Institute, Cobb Executive Women, a subset of the Cobb Chamber of Commerce, and BOMA where she serves on the Community Service Committee. "My experiences with BOMA encouraged me to challenge myself with more organizations, and involvement in CREW has been a "to do" item for some time. I have joined the CREW Communications Committee and look forward to utilizing my experience in this arena to further develop the strong professional image that the women of CREW represent."
