CREW Atlanta, CoreNet Global and The Atlanta Commercial Board of Realtors are proud to present

Marci Rossell

Former CNBC Chief Economist and Co-Host of SQUAWK BOX

Marci Rossell electrifies audiences nationwide, speaking on the nexus of economics, politics, culture and the media. Her animated style was honed when she served as the popular, lively Chief Economist for CNBC in the months immediately following September 11th. She takes complex economic issues, often dull in the button-down business press, and makes them relevant to people's lives, families, and careers.

Prior to her career in broadcast journalism, Marci served as Corporate Economist and Investment Spokesperson for OppenheimerFunds, one of the nation's largest mutual fund companies. Before moving to Wall Street, she was an expert witness for Deloitte and Touche in court cases involving economic issues. Marci began her career as an economist with the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas. She is currently a visiting professor at DePaul University.

Marci earned a PhD in economics from Southern Methodist University, where she was named one of the Young Alumni of the Year in 2002. She brings a world of experience—from Main Street to Wall Street—when discussing the U.S. economy, international events, and movements in capital markets.

Her creative, thought-provoking commentary will ring in the audience members' ears well after she leaves the stage.

Those of you who attended the CREW Network convention in Denver in 2007 will remember Marci's presentation. We are so fortunate to have her appear in Atlanta for the January program and give an economic forecast. She is highly entertaining and full of great information and insight. In addition, she has a way of presenting what may otherwise be dry and technical information in a manner that will keep you on the edge of your seat!

This is a program you don't want to miss!
