Atlanta's Luckie Charm

Are you feeling Luckie? You will be after a Behind the Scenes tour of the newly developed Luckie Marietta district in downtown Atlanta. Join us for this member's only CREW event offering an exclusive look at the redevelopment of an historic piece of Atlanta and the creation of a lifestyle destination for the City.

The Luckie Marietta district is a 6-acre, three block mixed-use development located between its namesakes--Luckie and Marietta Streets. Legacy Property Group manages the district which they developed under the direction of its president, David Marvin. Mr. Marvin's vision for establishing a neighborhood destination for Atlantans and tourists alike has come to fruition as the area enjoys foot traffic from avid sports fans, concert goers, local business people and out-of-towners, as they come to enjoy the district's diverse offerings.

Bordered by Centennial Olympic Park and the Georgia World Congress Center, the Luckie Marietta district is home to a collection of hotels, restaurants and attractions including the Georgia Aquarium, The World of Coca-Cola and the recently opened National Museum of Patriotism. The area hosts 11.9 million visitors a year with distinctive dining and entertainment opportunities as well as world class hotels and meeting facilities. This one-stop shop is thriving as an exemplary model of Atlanta's downtown renaissance.

Join your fellow CREW members April 22nd for a Behind the Scenes look at developing a district in Downtown Atlanta. David Marvin, President of Legacy Property Group will discuss his 10-year vision for the area around Centennial Olympic Park, and the creation of the Luckie Marietta District. Attendees will partake of a piece of the District, Restaurant Row, located at 300 Marietta St. NW. After the discussion, we will visit STATS, a sports bar; Rise, an Asian bistro and sushi lounge; and The Wine Bar, while enjoying samples from their menus as we network.
