CREW Message from the President

Dear CREW Members and Supporters:

I want to start this, my first address to you all, by thanking you for the honor of being your new President. I do not take lightly the trust that you have shown by electing me to be the figurehead of CREW Atlanta and I want you to know that I remain dedicated not only to the members and supporters of this organization, but also to our mission of building business and enriching our industry through the empowerment of women.

I and many of my colleagues believe that we enter this new decade a little more cautious, a little more skeptical and dare I say it, a little wiser than we entered 2000. The turbulent economy of the last few years has shown us all the importance of an honest, balanced business plan and the aim of steady, sustainable growth. This is not a bad thing. In fact, a reality check and re-establishment of the values that first enabled this... (Click to read more)
