What's New With You?

Have you noticed that CREW Atlanta's tag line is "Building Relationships To Build Business"? Some of you have done more than just notice—you have grown your business because of the relationships that you have fostered through your involvement in CREW—and we want to hear all about it!

This mission is purposely broad so that we can capture a variety of types of events, whether professional, civic or personal. Have you recently been promoted, joined a community Board, or had a baby?
